Read why Montclair's last puff tastes as fresh as the first puff!

The others put the menthol in the tobacco you smoke. But Montclair puts the menthol in the tip—where it cannot burn. Montclair's menthol filter cools the taste of the good golden tobaccos. Filters in freshness, filters in flavor the whole smoke through. So the last puff tastes as fresh as the first puff! Never tastes dry or bitter...always smooth and mellow. The filter adds to your smoking pleasure, instead of taking it away! Discover Montclair today!

Up Where Miners used to Climb in Quest of Gold and Glory

For a day of unforgettable family fun and adventure, drive this 134-mile loop tour to the queen of ghost towns, and the rooftop of the nation. (CLIP AND SAVE THIS TOUR)

A CENTURY AGO the snowy Rockies in Denver's backyard teemed with prospectors who panned from bubbling streams and dug the rocky hillsides. In the first great strike, Central City was transformed from a crude mining camp into a boom town of great wealth and cultural aspirations. Now you can relive those days, traveling on well-paved roads where the narrow-gauge railroad once chugged and puffed. You'll drive to the cool summit of Mount Evans, on the highest paved road anywhere in America, with the inspiring scenery of Arapaho National Forest on all sides. Pack a lunch-the Forest Service has set aside the choicest spots for picnic use. You can count on opportunities for plenty of color photographs, too, so take your camera.

From Denver, start from the junction of U.S. 6 (West 6th Avenue) and U.S. 87-85 (Valley Highway), or nine blocks north on West Colfax Avenue (U.S. 40), across the South Platte River. (From Colorado Springs, come up on Interstate 25

O miles at junction. Drive west on U.S. 6, passing the Denver Federal Center, which includes more Federal offices than any city outside of Washington, D.C., then head upward into the foothills of the Rockies in Denver's mountain parks. This unique network of outdoor playgrounds offers picnic tables, fishing, and golfing, at elevation up to 12,000 feet. Turn left on the Lariat Trail for a side trip to LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN, site of the rocky tomb of Buffalo Bill Cody, the famous Indian scout and rodeo artist who chose this final resting place facing Denver and the panorama of snowy Rockies. Visit the PAHASKA TEPEE, a memorial museum to Buffalo Bill. Then return to U.S. 6 and continue west. Turn right on Route 119, in the heart of the prospecting country. For years lode and placer mining yielding fantastic treasures, but now deserted mine shafts and prospect holes in the hillsides tell a mute story of the worked-out areas of gold and silver.

32m. BLACK HAWK. Here John Gregory found his famous gold quartz vein on May 6, 1859. Quickly, tent-city mining camps mushroomed as thousands headed into the hills. More than $85,000,000 worth of gold and silver was mined here during the 1860's. Turn left at Route 279 to ...

33m. CENTRALCITY, renowned as the "richest square mile on earth" and (together with Black Hawk) as "Gregory's Diggings." Streets were built on steep hillsides, but nobody minded in the bonanza days when Central City rivaled Denver, You feel the aura of Victorian culture at its fine old Opera House, where Sarah Bernhardt and Edwin Booth made triumphant appearances, And you sense the aura of wealth at the Teller House Hotel-its front walk was paved with thirty solid silver bricks before President Grant's visit

Return to Route 119 and retrace this road to the junction with U.S. 6 -then continue west on U.S. 6 through CLEAR CREEK CANYON

49m. IDAHO SPRINGS, where George Jackson discovered gold in Clear Creek, January 7, 1859. Piles of raw rock strewn on the mountain sides are testimony of the hard-rock mining boom that followed. Today

Idaho Springs is a blend of ghost town, mineral springs resort and a focal point for side trips into the hills. Youngsters will enjoy the free conducted tour of the EDGAR MINE, an experimental classroom of the Colorado School of Mines. Heading south out of Idaho Springs, turn right on U.S. 40 and 6. At Junction Route 103, turn left and drive south between the granite walls of Chicago Creek Canyon into ARAPAHO NA-TIONAL FOREST, one million acres of mountain magnificence astride the Continental Divide. The mighty Arapaho, with elevations over 14,000 feet, furnishes timber, water, grazing land and sheer inspiration. Take Route 103 to . . .

10,600 feet, encircled with pines, a delightful, cool stop where you can picnic, hike or fish. But it is a prelude to ascent on Route 5, above the pine, spruce and timberline, where trees yield to a carpet of alpine flowers. Don't worry about the road-grade does not exceed six percent.

Central City Black Hawk

77m. MOUNT EVANS. You are at the pinnacle of the breath-taking highway to the clouds, 14,264 feet high, facing snowy peaks, silvery streams, and a million trees far below. Within view lie the entire Front Range and the great plains to the East. Return to Echo Lake, then turn right on Route 103, winding past Devil's Nose, Warrior Mountain and Chief Mountain.

100m. SQUAW PASS, an excellent recreation area on the way down (elevation 9,790), where you can identify many prominent, distinctive peaks from Squaw Mountain world-famous phenomenon of geology, where roads wind between sandstone spires and ledges to Red Rock Theatre. Here is a natural outdoor amphitheatre, scene of our annual Easter Sunrise Service, and of summer evening concerts.

Possibly the evening shadows will cross the landscape as you return to Denver by U.S. 285 out of Morrison, having covered 134 miles of Colorado's exciting history and scenery.

The last glimpse, of a multicolored panorama at twilight, will be the thrilling touch that makes you want to set forth again - to explore and enjoy the treasures of our state.

expenses. The drawback in the tax deduction or concession idea is that the colleges themselves would get no monetary benefit from it. Indeed, they might very well incur a loss, for individual income tax deductions for educational purposes would probably increase the enrollments and add to the pressure on college facilities. To get around this objection, Mr. Freeman suggests that tax credits be given to individual families to support an across-the-board general increase in college tuition charges. The deal on the tax credit would be between the individual taxpayer and the Internal Revenue Service, which would keep the federal government out of higher education. But the colleges would get more mossey for the service they pro

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

IF YOU KNEW WHAT THIS "CAR KILLER" KNOWS...YOU'D BE DRIVING A SOLID, SILENT SUPER TORQUE FORD

This steel-edged pothole is probably the world's toughest test of a car's suspension. We drive into this car killer at 30 mph, locking our brakes as we go so the wheels can't roll through the hole as they normally would. The car slams against the far edge of the hole with such impact that it literally bounds out.

If you added up the cumulative effect of all the jars and jolts vigur car's suspension system experiences in years of normal driving, it wouldn't match the impact of one trip through the hole. Yet-a Ford must run this test three times to prove its strength.

How can a Ford take it? Because Ford's front suspension has extra beef in spindles, springs, suspension arms-in fact, it's about 20 pounds heavier than the front suspension of our principal competitor's car.

We don't expect you to abuse your car the way we do our test cars. But, however you drive, you'll welcome the entra strength of a total performance Ford. Ford strength is tested in a thousand ways in Ford's laboratories and proving grounds-and in open competition in the world's toughest raffies and stock car events.

Look at Ford's astounding record in open competition this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside, and Atlanta 500's, the World 600 at Charlotte, N.C., and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance—the best combination of strength, balance, precision control and roadclinging suspension-could roll up so many wins.

Before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery: if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance...total performance.

Some Popularity Lost by JFK, Bobby Admits

Gen. Robert F. Kennedy says President Kennedy probably has lost some popularity because of his espousal of civil rights legislation but will be re-elected in 1964 nonetheless.

Any time you get into a controversy and a deep and bitter controversy such as this is, and where there is a large percentage of people in a section . . . opposed to the action that is being taken by the government, ... the President is going to lose popularity and administration will lose popularity," the Attorney General

He added in a radio and television interview that while the administration had made no attempt to measure the political effect of its civil rights measures "I have heard of other soundings that have been taken which indicate that the President has lost a good deal of his popularity because of this effort.

Humphrey said in a statement he is "deeply concerned by the growing evidence that EEC Eu ropean Economic Community) i moving toward protectionist trade-restrictive policies." Behind this complaint is a sky rocketing demand from all sections of the country for action by the administration to get rescind ed decisions which have all bu closed the European market t U.S. frozen chickens and flour and threaten future exports of wheat. feed grains, rice, dairy products and many meat products.

The Humphrey-Dirksen resolu tion noted that the Common Mar ket actions threaten "a significant part of our $1.2-billion export earn ings from sales of agricultural commodities to the EEC. The resolution noted that the Trade Expansion Act passed last year "directs the President to take all appropriate and feasible steps to eliminate unjustifiable any country against U.S. agricultural products.

Kennedy was reported to have voiced a vigorous appeal to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in their Bonn, Germany, conference Monday for German support in an effort to rescind the tariff decisions

The president said at a subsequent news conference that Western Europe should consider in shaping its economic policies that the United States has borne the major burden of its defense for 18 years. In effect, he urged allied governments to reject discriminatory trade policies.

Kennedy apparently will have to depend primarily on persuasion so far as farm products are concerned. Although he has authority to cut U.S. tariffs up to 50 per cent on a wide variety of products, his negotiators must sell the Europeans on the idea that they can't have a protectionist fence around their farm products and still export their manufactured goods to the United States.

Conga Line Injury Case Is Dismissed

LOS ANGELES (AP)-A judge said it: When a middle-aged man dances in a conga line with spirited chorus girls, he assumes a cer tain risk

Superior Court Judge Frederick F. Houser Monday dismissed the $253,600 damage suit Benjamin Satz, 58, had filed against a Las Vegas resort hotel. Satz claimed a chorine induced him to join a conga line and one of the girls kicked him, causing a bloodclot in the leg. Satz, a Long Beach, Calif., furniture man, said he had lost weight-from 220 pounds down to 200-and claimed he suffered permanent injuries. The judge said he had assumed his own risks when he climbed on the stage to

Then there was the man who checked into a motel at Tulsa, Okla., late one night with his large family. The tired porter asked for connecting rooms, a roll-a-way bed, baby bed and other sleeping equipment. When the items were delivered, the frustrated father counted beds and appeared satisfied until a tiny two-year-old toddled from the bathroom. "One more," shouted the man, 'I forgot this one."

Children often provide the heartiest laughs. One three-year-old discovered a flashlight in a motel at Ocala, Fla. She turned the flashlight on her feet.

Asked what she was doing, the little girl replied: "I'm shining my feet."

Sometimes innkeepers have problems when persons who are not guests ask to use motel swimming pools.

Lynn Harrison, motel operator at Massena, N.Y., tells about one hot day when a boy, 10, strolled up to the desk seeking permission to take a dip.

The desk clerk told the young ster the pool was for guests only, and not open to the public. "But I'm not a Public," said the disappointed lad, "I'm a

TV Camera for Every Home in World Proposed

By WARD CANNEL NEW YORK (NEA) - What with all the panel shows and satellites and everything, Nicholas Wardey and his idea were bound to find each other. Wardey's plan for the planet calls for a television camera in every home, casa, mudhut, igloo, junk and tepee in the world.

"The basic trouble in the world." Wardey says, "is a lack dialogue. Governments have complete access to people at all times. But the people have few ways of talking back.

"Unless the people have a way to answer, the world will never be a safe place in which to live. And today, such dialogue is entirely feasible with free, two-way, global television.

Wardey has not only worked it out on large sheets of engineertype paper, but he has also taken a leave from his advertising office in Los Angeles to come to New York to launch the project.

'This is the time," Wardey says, "for humanity to save it And at so extreme an hour who would niggle over cost? England, Wardey says, will presently begin selling satellites on the open market. Certainly a launching pad can be rented somewhere. And, with recent-advances in transistors and power supply, it will be a cinch to supply every home that wants one with a television

"After all," Wardey points out, we are spending some $60 billion each year on armaments that will be obsolete almost immediately. So why count the expense in a plan that can't cost nearly that much and will save the

The details of production are equally simple.

Families who want to participate in Wardey's global Two-V will join a committee of their interest - food, health, labor, politics, psychology or whatever. Their cameras will be hooked into a world-wide channel with others of the same persuasion. A World Peoples' Planning Office (WPPO) will set up an agenda for discussion

On discussion day, you merely sit before your camera and see on your etlevision screen a waffle picture of all the participants in your committee who, like yourself, are sitting before their screens and cameras all over the world, and who are beamed to each other via satellite

Your copy of the agenda alerts you to your turn on the air, and a WPPO director makes sure that everybody has his say. Wardey's idea, curiously, is vision and satellites. "The rudiments of the plan came to me in 1938 in Waterloo. Iowa," Wardey says, "when a radio program I was listening to was interrupted by a maniacal voice whom the news announcer said was Adolf Hitler. I was stopped in my tracks. 'Here was a demon working people up to death and destruction and they were going along with it only because there was no way for anybody to talk

In 1944 with the bombs falling around him in London, Wardey saw that talking back was the only way to stop tyrannical insanity. Since then he has devoted as much time as he could find to working out the details. By 1958 he was ready with a working concept which he published and brought to the attention of such leaders as Gov. Pat Brown of California, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, and Pope John

"Now," says Wardey, "the time has come for people themselves to revamp the old, outworn idea of leaders with all the power and followers with none.

"If we don't make the decision. governments will make the decision. Governments must take their orders from us. No people in any country should be pushed around like cattle."

Red China Denounces East Germany Policies

TOKYO (AP)-Red China has accused East Germany of deliberately attempting to "widen the differences in the international Communist movement" by trying to prevent publication of Pe king's recent 30,000-word denunciation of Soviet Premier Khrush

The East German news agency ADN on June 21 charged the Red Chinese Embassy in East Berlin volated "existing rules and legal regulations" by distributing the lengthy statement.

Quoting a spokesman for Peking's Embassy in East Germany, the New China News Agency said today ADN's action "can only be regarded as a deliberate attempt to kick up a nuproar, attack the Communist party of China, widen the differences in the international Communist movement and undermine the unity among frater-

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) There new type of "high rise" i or civic planner is alarmed about the skyline, however, because the view is terrific from any angle Looking up, especially. The new "high rise" is the skyscraper sil houette of motion picture and tele vision sirens.

It is the only kind of overhead Hollywood isn't worried about it these frantic days. Even the efficiency experts are not complain ing. They are enjoying the view

The feminine "high rise" start ed more cautiously than the con struction industry's upward boom. A few years ago Sophia Loren was the only glamazon around. At 5 feet 10 she towered so far above some of her leading men that clinch was an engineering prob iem. The hero had to stand on ar elevated platform to look her in the eye. When she costarred with Alan Ladd in "Boy On a Dolphin" on location in Greece, a hilarious story was told.

Today every movie lot has skyscraper siren or two.

The Glamazons who are Amazons include Paula Prentiss feet 9); Julie Newmar (5 feet 10) Charlene Holt (5 feet 8); Phyllis McGuire (5 feet 8); Diane McBain 15 feet 712); Joan Shawlee (6 feet), and at the same level, Anita Ekberg.

But elevated platforms and trenches have become obsolete. It is also the day of taller heroes, most of whom check in at 6 feet or more. The tall gals - "statuesque" is the word they preferare grateful. So are audiences. Who, after all, wants to see a girl lean over to kiss a hero on the top of his head?

Are the ladies happy way up

They are. Height has advantages, as Julie Newmar points

"I can look a man straight in the eye and kiss him without stress, strain or sprain. In a room filled with women, men see me first. Before they notice anyone else, their eyes travel down to see how I'm put together.'

Says Paula Prentiss, who found herself looking up at 6-feet-4 Rock Hudson when they costarred in 'Man's Favorite Sport' "My only problem seems to be

Only Anita Ekberg, the monumental Swede, thought Hollywood overdid the publicity bit on her figure. "Hollywood gave me a complex." she says today since finding stardom in Italian and United States films made overseas. "Most of all I got fed up with everyone's interest in my figure. I thought it was morbid." In Anita's case, however, it was more than just height. She's monumental in all departments.

Walls Come Tumbling Down for Old Church

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) -The Church of Jesus Christ of the Apostolic Faith was going strong until the building next door was razed for a parking lot. Then the wall came tumbling down.
